

A PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP
FOR NORTHEAST MISSISSIPPI AMERICAN HISTORY AND ECONOMIC EDUCATORS
Presented by: The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Memphis Branch and
Teaching American History Federal Grant (PAST)

Friday, October 3, 2008
9 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.
Alcorn School District Education Center
Corinth, MS

Details: Northeast Mississippi American History and Economics Educators in grades 5, 8, 11, and 12 are invited to attend this conference presented by the PAST Project (Teaching American History Federal Grant) and the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis—Memphis Branch. The goal is to encourage and enhance American History/Economics teaching and student learning across the grade levels.

The Federal Reserve has developed a new curriculum for teaching about the Great Depression which includes six stand-alone lessons allowing teachers to select those lessons most appropriate for their students. The lessons include simulations, group work and other active strategies to engage students.

Join us for a workshop to receive your free curriculum and to see lessons demonstrated. At the completion of the workshop, a certificate of participation will be awarded. Complimentary continental breakfast and lunch will be served. Registration is limited to the first 40 teachers. There is no fee for the workshop, but advance registration is required.

Registration: To register, fill out the form below and fax to Travis Smith at 662-286-3507 or email the registration information to Travis Smith at tsmith@alcorn.k12.ms.us.
